Church of Christ
IN FOREST HILL

The background of the image is a soft, out-of-focus sunset or sunrise sky, transitioning from a pale pink at the top to a warm orange and yellow at the bottom. In the foreground, the dark silhouettes of two hands are raised in a gesture of prayer or praise, with fingers slightly spread and palms facing upwards. The hands are positioned on the left side of the frame, with the right hand slightly higher than the left.

5 Healthy Eating Tips for the Holidays

'Tis the season for family, festivity, and food—lots of food. Temptations are everywhere, and parties and travel disrupt daily routines.

1. Holiday-Proof Your Plan

You may not be able to control what food you're served, and you're going to see other people eating tempting treats. Meet the challenges armed with a plan:

- Invited to a party? Offer to bring a healthy dish along.*
- If you have a sweet treat, cut back on other carbs (like potatoes and bread) during the meal.*
- Don't skip meals to save up for a feast. It will be harder to manage your blood sugar, and you'll be really hungry and more likely to overeat.*

2. Outsmart the Buffet

When you face a spread of delicious holiday food, make healthy choices easier:

- Have a small plate of the foods you like best and then move away from the buffet table.*
- Start with vegetables to take the edge off your appetite.*

3. Fit in Favorites

No food is on the naughty list. Choose the dishes you really love and can't get any other time of year, just slow down and savor a small serving, and make sure to count it in your meal plan.

4. Keep Moving

Being active is your secret holiday weapon; it can help make up for eating more than usual and reduce stress during this most stressful time of year. Get moving with friends and family, such as taking a walk after a holiday meal.

5. Get Your Zzz's

Aim for 7 to 8 hours per night to guard against mindless eating.
